prologue

And a man said, Speak to us of Self-Knowledge.
And he answered, saying:
Your hearts know in silence the secrets of the days and the nights.
But your ears thirst for the sound of your heart's knowledge.
You would know in words that which you have always known in thought.
You would touch with your fingers the naked body of your dreams.

The Prophet

Now let us play the novitiate, to touch for one, brief moment the self begotten worlds inside of us. Worlds may turn endlessly, but here for awhile the world stops-so that we can see ourselves.

CREDITS:
We wish to thank: Alfred A. Knopf, Inc. for permission to use excerpts from THE PROPHET, by Kahlil Gibran.

in the fumbling rush of life we stop to contemplate,
to think upon ourselves.

eyes without and eyes within seek out our inner person.

from a frail beginning

we seek........and find

.......and know.

we search for self and in the searching
we seek others...find others
...and perhaps......even know others.

and with them we share
joy....in ourselves

together we explore the mysteries...

The musician may sing to you of the rhythm which is in all space, but he cannot give you the ear which arrests the rhythm nor the voice that echoes it.

And he who is versed in the science of numbers can tell of the regions of weight and measure, but he cannot conduct you thither. For the vision of one man lends not its wings to another man.

already lies half asleep in the dawning of your knowledge.

"and there are those who have little

"It is well to give when asked, but it is better to give unasked, through understanding;
And to the open-handed the search for one who shall receive is joy greater than giving.

And is there aught you would withold?
All you have shall some day be given;
Therefore give now, that the season of giving may be yours and not your inheritors'."

homecoming 1968

This year an additional Homecoming activity was held to officially open the 1968 College Night competition. Some of the activities for this initial event included a kick-off parade, a gymnastics performance, bon-fire and pep rally, and a dance. The College Night tip-off honored its first homecoming queen, Miss Sunny Saxon, and her court. Surely this will become a traditional event sponsored by the S.G.A.

Self-knowledge is the simplicity of not walking alone on a rainy day,

omegas shine for drives' week

Members of the Omega Club seek to be an asset to their club and to their campus. In an effort to fulfill this ideal Omegas worked hard in this their first year of existence. Omegas were there to help move the library and they served refreshments to the other hardy souls who braved the elements just to see all the books in place in the new library. The Alumni Tea during College Night activities was another project of the Omegas. Drives Week found the Omegas shining shoes and rather successfully, too. Their donation was among the highest received by the S.G.A.

Omegas have a conscience for the world and that is why they adopted the young girl in Greece through the foster parents program. At Christmas the Omegas sent socks to an outfit in Viet Nam and began writing to a number of GI's.

Although girls social clubs are new on our campus, the Theta Social Club has been busy making themselves a permanent asset.

The Thetas have become extremely interested in the welfare of the speech clinic and have shown their interest by an annual Easter Egg Hunt for the children there.

theta social club

In the fall the club won honorable mention for the dorm Halloween decorations which Hanson's girls requested the Thetas to construct. The Thetas contributed to Drives Week by sponsoring an Iron-In. The S.G.A. honored the Thetas by relying on them to plan and serve at the annual Beauty Tea.

In spite of their club and school activities, the Thetas have not neglected the social aspects of life.

DELTAS WELCOME
FRESHMAN CLASS

That Delta motto, In Medias Rex, comes to the foreground as one examines the Delta activity roster. Their frat spirit and their school spirit are hard to beat. The flying falcon mascot, Ace, was a gift to Alabama College from the Deltas and all those pre-game bonfires were courtesy of the Deltas, too. The Deltas beat rival Theta Sigma Chi in a fine football contest. They did their part for Drives Week with a slave auction which netted enough to make the Deltas top contributors.

The Deltas are in the middle of things, just as their motto says, and anyone of them will tell you it's the only place to be.

Here's that pride of the Falcons . . . ACE.

MEISTERS

You find Meisters as participators in the academic, athletic, and social scenes at Alabama College. Academically they are tops and have a long history of scholastic success. Second place in intramural football and first place in intramural basketball are testimony to the Meisters' athletic prowess. The Meisters contribute to the social life of Alabama College with their annual parties. At Christmas the Meisters made donations to the Mercy Home and a needy family in the Shelby County area.

The service and activities of the Meisters are valuable to the fraternity system and to the Alabama College student body. They support campus activities and you will find Meister members on the rolls of departmental and honorary organizations.

The transition from social club to fraternity meant the adoption of two Greek letters and the Sigma Club became Theta Sigma Chi. There are new faces in Theta Sigma Chi, Too and along with alums and actives they enjoyed parties in the Sigma tradition. Theta Sigma Chi hosted their annual Jungle Party in the fall to get campus social life moving. The third "big rock" was added to the campus midst shouts and songs and the "Go Falcons" sign at the SUB was an effort to rally school spirit.

Theta Sigma Chi took 1st place honors in homecoming float competition and if there had been laurels for Christmas caroling, that would also have been a Sigma First. Theta Sigma Chi decorated the campus Christmas tree to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas.

Theta Sigma Chi members are leaders in campus politics and departmental organizations. They have reason to be proud of Theta Sigma Chi, what it means to its members and what it means to Alabama College.

Self-knowledge is playing with sand-castles;
it is playing with life until there is laughter.

sand-towers with constancy and then destroy them with laughter. . ."

The Gymnastics Team began their first year here at Alabama College, under the supervision of Miss Freddie Malone. Much equipment was purchased this year in hopes that in the coming years, the Gymnastics team would be an overwhelming success.

epilogue

"Farewell to you and the youth I have spent with you.

It was but yesterday we met in a dream.

You have sung to me in my aloneness, and I of your longings have built a tower in the sky.

But now our sleep has fled and our dream is over, and it is no longer dawn.

The noontide is upon us and our half waking has turned to fuller day, and we must part.

If in the twilight of memory we should meet once more, we shall speak again together and you shall sing to me a deeper song.

And if our hands should meet in another dream we shall build another tower in the sky."
